Activity of the Day

Visit the BookTrust website on the link below and take the 'Harry Potter in Translation' Quiz. You don't need to know anything about Potter, this quiz tests your linguistic skills! <https://www.booktrust.org.uk/books-and-reading/have-some-fun/quizzes/harry-potter-in-translation/>

Print screen your score and submit to the Google Classroom—syrgcti

High score winners will win an achievement point! Miss O'Brien got 50% - can you beat my score?

Library Update

On Friday 6th March, Arden celebrated World Book Day. Three authors were invited to demonstrate to students that no matter what subject you are interested in, reading underpins everything.

Lauren James, Bali Rai and Matt Oldfield were fantastic — each author ran a year group talk, a Subject Ambassador workshop and a talk to encourage a love of reading.

A full review of the day will be in the Arden Newsletter.

We had some awesome tweets from our authors about World Book Day

"Thanks for an awesome day! It was a pleasure."- Bali Rai

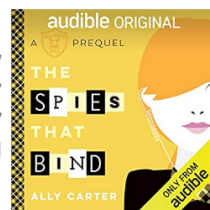

"Thank you for a lovely day!" - Lauren James

"Lovely to meet you." - Matt Oldfield

Book Recommendations

Young Adult (Y9+) - The Spies that Bind by Ally Carter

The first day at a new school is tough for any kid, but it's especially scary when you're going to a school for spies.

Cammie Morgan is about to learn the most important lesson of the seventh grade: getting into spy school is hard. Surviving spy school is harder.

Do you have a book recommendation?

Submit your book rec via Google Classroom and you could see it published in the next Arden Library mini-zine!

Aim to keep the review under 50 words, please.
